FROM THE CHAIRMAN

LAMBING | EVENTS

I temporarily took over the role of Chairman at the AGM in November and was voted by Council at our February meeting to continue.

As I write this the sun is shining and lambs are out in the fields which makes a pleasant change from the wet stormy weather we had earlier in the year. I hope lambing has gone well for you and not too many members have suffered with Schmallenberg or bluetongue.

Livestock prices remain buoyant throughout the UK and the breed has seen another good year in the sale rings. We held five sales last year and all had good entries and prices.

The breed was also successful in the show ring with good entries at local and national shows and numerous interbreed successes. Well done to everyone on the work they put in to their animals to turn them out so well. The national show was held at The Royal Three Counties where there was a bumper entry of Zwartbles put before the Judge John Stevenson. The National show goes to the Great Yorkshire Show this year and calling the shots that day is Fiona Brown.

The association will be attending the NSA events this year and having a stand so please come along and say hello and if you are able to help on the stand for an hour or so then please get in touch with the office.

2025 is an exciting year for the breed as we mark our 30th Anniversary. I hope you will all join us in Yorkshire in October to celebrate it on what looks to be a great fun filled night. We plan to hold a raffle to be drawn that night with some great prizes so please sell lots of raffle tickets to support MND and the Sepsis Trust.

Kind Regards

Ally

Whitefield Flock

Flock: 00175

Sheep were never a part of the plan.

Having been brought up with my parents running a traditional flock of commercial Dorsets on the edge of Exmoor at 1200ft in my early years and being a through and through cattle girl, a flock of tall, dark, continental sheep seemed unlikely to come waltzing in to my world.

The initial eye catcher was unusual. I'm a 6ft woman and suddenly in my sights at the shows were these tall, distinctive looking sheep. It may be a hideous cliché but it was love at first sight and I knew I had to have some.

It was 2004 when my Father agreed to house two Zwartbles ewes, just in time for the Westway flock dispersal and that day, five sheep came home with me; and "increase" continued to be the key word...

My first tup came was 0007-075M, from the Tivvy flock of Sandra Phillips. Affectionately known as Mr Ram, we thought we'd have a go at showing. One day after work, my parents (having warmed to the idea of sheep slightly) were delighted to update me that they'd washed Mr Ram in Fairy Liquid. Brilliant. A huge puff ball for my first crack at trimming.

We duly made it to our first show; the Royal Bath & West. I was a fish out of water, accustomed only to cattle showing, I had no idea what I was doing. And then a gentleman was in my pen, giving Mr Ram a hugely thorough once over, I stood aside nervously awaiting the outcome; "you'll do alright tomorrow" – and this was the start of a lovely friendship with the great Peter Coombs.

Mr Ram went on to be awarded the Reserve Champion that day and this began a really exciting two years on the circuit with the tup, concluding in a tupping trip to Barry Mills' Washingpool flock, from which I purchased daughters and granddaughters from the Exeter sale to keep dripping that bloodline back in.

For the next few years, showing was what I was breeding sheep for. The buzz of the show ring was second to none and the sheep travelled miles up and down the country for a stab at success, the recognition of the rosette.

As numbers grew, the fat lamb, store lamb and cull ewe price became of higher importance. I had more sheep, which meant more mouths and higher costs and I was a teenager working at the local market to finance this sheep hobby which was getting a little out of hand.

I knew my focus always had to be finding the best tup I could, as with the cows the bull is always half your herd. It was a long drive up to Carlisle from Somerset in my Fiesta, on my own but I knew what I had to do. As with the bulls, much attention was always paid to the cow families behind them and I'd done my research on depth of ewe family bloodlines and so my first four-figure tup purchase came in my first Holmlea purchase also; Holmlea Calipto.

It was this purchase that supported my new adage that I needed to focus on commercial viability as well as pedigree prowess and that depth of breeding, that constant presence of a solid ewe family reflected what I needed going forward. In other words, my sheep needed to be bred as well as fed.

The performance of Calipto within the flock was what made me return to Holmlea again and again. I was buying blind over the phone at the Carlisle sale, based on what was on paper alone; not just two or three generations either, I was going right back. It was the Camilla Wickeds, the Brave Tartens and the Count lines I was after and I was lucky enough to secure several over the years and they seriously performed right up until my most recent purchase, Holmlea Juniper, again bought blind out of Carlisle as a 4T.

Alongside the pedigree flock, I had experimented over the years with crossbreeding; I'd tried several continental terminal sires but what really ticked the boxes for me and continues to do so, was the Dorset. The lambs maintain the size of the Zwartbles coupled with the easy and speedy fleshing of the Dorset and I have continued this cross over several years, running a good percentage of Dorset x ewes also, again with the milk of the Zwartbles and the attributes of the Dorset.

Commercial viability remains at the forefront for the Whitefield flock, my life has changed and not through choice and my responsibilities rarely allows attendance at shows with my own stock so the focus had to shift in order to retain the flock.

A sheep lady once told me that "you have to enjoy what you get out of bed for every morning" and with the Zwartbles, this couldn't be any more true.

Conic Flock

Flock: 804

It is an honour to have been asked to provide an article for the ZSA yearbook. It goes without saying that my hobby is showing and enjoy working with these big black sheep. My wife Helen's hobby is the SWI and she's always happy to turn up for ZSA social events, then of course our son David helps look after the sheep.

Originally I was from the Lockerbie area and left school in 1969 to work on the family farm with my father, where he had a herd of 75 pedigree Ayrshire cows and because I always liked sheep it wasn't long before I bought some Suffolk ewes. We only had a small rented farm and by the 1980's it was considered to be too small and as we didn't have the opportunity to expand I went out contract sheep shearing until my father was age to retire, at that stage we decided to give up the farm and I went back to College and studied Civil Engineering. When I went back to College we moved to Loch Lomond area where I only had a short journey each day to study and work in Glasgow.

David left school to work as a greenkeeper at one of our local golf courses and then in his early 20's he gave up green keeping to go round the world shearing sheep, which he did for nearly 10 years, but he is now back to green keeping and works at Loch Lomond Golf course.

Initially Helen was the breeder, but her commitments to the SWI meant that she didn't have time to go to shows and attend ZSA events, so I became enrolled as the breeder. David used to have a small flock of Texel sheep, and when the Zwartbles arrived he became interested in our wee flock, so much so that he eventually parted with the Texels. David is also very enthusiastic about the breeding of our Z's and delves into the pedigrees with the view to selecting a marriage that will produce the tall elegant style of sheep that we like.

We bought our first Zwartbles at a Stirling sale in 2010 and the first year as breeders we only had 2 ewes, then the following year we had 5 ewes, but at that stage we didn't have a ram, so Andrew Bailie of the Broomfield flock gave us the loan of a Ram lamb each year to service our ewes. We appreciated Andrew's help and encouragement when starting off in the Zwartbles breed. The first stock ram that we purchased was Helstanes Wallace, which was followed by Homelea Chief, so these two rams were the bloodlines, which formed the foundation of our original flock. Over the next few years we used Conic Endrick along with an Import ram and Saltur Cassidy, then we bought Selside Herbert and he seemed to marry in well with our bloodlines and leaved us some really good stock.

We started showing our Zwartbles in 2014 and since then we have tried to support all of our wee local shows, which attract some really strong competition, as Greystone and Aquila also show at the same group of local shows, both those flocks are well renowned for their quality sheep and usually take champion, having said that we still manage to pick up a few red rosettes and every now and again even a reserve championship.

Then in 2019 we managed to pick up a few championships with Somerwood Daphnie a 2 crop ewe, which we bought at Carlisle as a shearling gimmer from the late Joan Rowlands. Our youngsters in the show team that year were also picking up rosettes, Conic Foxy was a tall elegant Shearling, she was probably a more dutchy type and Conic Gucci a ewe lamb that took 1st place in her class on every outing, so with some good youngsters in the flock we were looking forward to the upcoming show seasons, then Covid arrived in 2020 and all shows were all cancelled. In 2021 the RHS made a last minute announcement that they would hold a one day show of livestock, so we went along and supported the event.

We usually lamb our sheep during the first week in the New Year and on the 7th January 2022 our sheep shed went on fire with all of our ewes and rams in the shed. The Fire Officer seemed to think that the fire started in the corner of the shed where we had a generator, so they assumed that a spark from the generator may have started the fire. Our sheep shed was a 5 bay dutch barn with a lean too on each side, and the penning layout that suited us best was to have the lambing ewes and the small lambing pens located up the centre of the shed, but unfortunately the flames from the straw and feed bins etc. went upward and travelled along the underside of the dutch barn barrel roof creating such heat, that all of the sheep within the central portion of the building perished. In one lean too we had 9 later lambing ewes, which we managed to save, but the tups were located further along this lean too and they also perished. We had ewes and lambs in the other lean too and managed to get 14 ewes and 9 lambs out of the shed, it seemed to be as the fire flashed across the straw of the bedded pens, that the majority of the lambs were caught up in the fire and didn't survive.

We lost 25 ewes and nearly all of our lambs. The clean-up was hard, we had to remove all the carcasses from the shed for disposal and when doing that I knew each carcass as an individual. All of our best ewes and all of the ewes that would have been in our show teams had been lost. All our neighbours were so helpful, to such an extent that a neighbour made one of his sheds available for us to house the sheep saved from the fire, so we rounded them all up and moved them into his shed. Once in the neighbours shed, the sheep required a lot of care and attention, because most of the ewes and lambs had burns. The vet treated the worst of the sheep with pain killers etc. and we also applied udder mint ointment to the burns every day for over 3 weeks. Two of the ewes lambed within 24 hours of the fire and unfortunately the lambs were dead, possibly due to the trauma. Of the sheep rescued from the fire one of the ewes and two of the lambs subsequently died within the first week. It's only after something like this, that we discovered we were under insured.

After the fire we had to rebuilding our flock, initially from the ewes saved from the fire and also by buying in additional females. Firstly we had to purchase a new stock ram, so we travelled down to Martin Preston's Greenhill flock and bought two ram lambs, which we thought would fit in with our bloodlines, and they did. We used Greenhill Kofi and Kildimo as well as a home bred ram called Keanu. We're really pleased with the way that they have been breeding, but it may take us another few years with good breeding, before our flock is back to where it was.

Before Covid I was still working full time as a Civil/Structural Engineer and didn't have time to show at the Royal Highland Show, but since retiring in 2021 I have shown at the RHS for 3 years and last year in the aged Ram class Conic Keanu was awarded Male Champion and overall Reserve Champion at RHS 2024, he is a grandson to Somerwood Daphnie and Selside Herbert. He was born two weeks after the fire and at that time we were still at a low point, so having something that was alive and looked okay gave us the lift that we needed, not only is he a show sheep, but he has proven himself to be a good breeder, so this has allowed us to retain some of our old bloodlines.

Meet the Judge

National Show 2025 - Great Yorkshire Show

Fiona Brown

First, I would like to start this by saying I am absolutely delighted to be asked to judge the National show at the Great Yorkshire Show this year. For all those that don't know me,

My name is Fiona and I own the Stainmore flock of Zwartbles, based in County Durham, alongside my mum, Linda. The flock was first established back in 2010 with the purchase of two pedigree ewes for my birthday, since then our flock grew to around 30 breeding females at its peak. However, more recently we have reduced numbers as I now live with my partner in Cumbria, where we run a large flock of commercial ewes alongside free range laying hens, B&B, pigs, pedigree Belted Galloways and a small amount of arable. In addition to the Zwartbles, myself and my mum also run a small flock of pedigree Swaledale sheep. When not working on the farm, I work as an embryologist for AB Europe, mainly working over in Northern Ireland for the busy sheep breeding months.

Danygraig Flock

Flock: 01385

Dylan and Charlie (Chuck) Jones

Well here's a bit about me - I am pharmacist by trade, with a small chain of independent pharmacies.

However, originally I am a farmers' son, from West Wales and have always had a keen interest in breeding sheep and in my younger years, was awarded the UK National YFC Stock Judge of the year. I started my showing career as a youngster, handling my fathers' Llanwennog sheep around the local shows. For over 30yrs, I also bred, trained and raced horses on the British Harness racing circuit, which is how I met my wife Charlie. She was originally from Yorkshire, moved to Wales after leaving school to work on a commercial sheep hill farm and also trained horses for harness racing. She did this for several years until she made the decision to become a Police Officer; 28yrs on she is currently our counties Rural Crime Officer! We have two grown up children: Ella (21) and Caio (18), who many of you know and have seen grow up around the shows.

Charlie and I purchased Danygraig Farm, Llandrindod Wells, Mid Wales back in 2003 and have kept our own sheep ever since. We initially bred Texel crosses, however in 2015 decided to try something different, we visited a few local Zwartbles flocks before initially purchasing a handful of yearlings from Alice

'Redgate', situated locally to us. Following this, we went to a few sales, traveled all around the country and purchased some more ewes and rams from several established breeders: Conwy, Bunshill, Greystone, Hayberries, Castle Hill and Wallridge Moor lines. We subsequently increased our flock numbers and added some different bloodlines with Wallacetown, Conic, Cynefin, Rockford and Pistyll. We had several different rams in the early years before travelling from Wales to Stirling to purchase Greystone Fraterculla. He made such a difference to our flock with consistency of markings and putting flesh on sheep. Since then we have purchased rams from Wallridge Moor and found great success with Wallridge Moor Gizmo lines. We continually try and add to the flock and last year purchased ewe lambs from Wallacetown, Henblas, Specott and Statesman flocks, each adding their own strengths and characteristics. In the summer of 2024, we purchased a ram lamb from the Jessley flock, 'Monument' who was reserve male Champion at the Great Yorkshire Show 2024 and won an interbreed at Newport show before joining us at Danygraig. Some of his lambs are now on the ground and we are hopeful they will follow in their fathers' footsteps.

As a family, we started showing Zwartbles in 2017, with our children Ella and Caio showing in the young handlers classes for several years. The Zwartbles temperament makes them ideal to encourage children and provide them with the confidence to show and grow interest. Caio ended his young handlers career on a high, at 16yrs old he took the Supreme Champion Young Handlers title at the Royal Welsh Show. He has since well and truly taken over as our main man in the showing, with his quiet demeanor and naturally calm attitude. Whilst Charlie and I are now sidelined to 'pit crew' duties, with only the occasional appearance!

These days we try and fill our calendar with several shows during the Summer months. We love the atmosphere and the great comradery, showing is something which we can all do together as a family. I remember someone once telling me, "it'll take you 10yrs before you get recognized within the breed" and they couldn't be more correct. 2024, was one of our most successful years yet, we were awarded the Zwartbles Breed Championship at Shropshire Show

Danygraig Legend and finally rounding off the season with Interbreed Reserve Champion at Kington show with Luscious after she took the Breed Champion title for second year running. We also had success at the sales and achieved 1st in the ram lamb class for three years on the bounce with Kilimanjaro, Lieutenant and Marciano: 2024 Male Champion and Reserve Breed Champion. Finally ending our year with Champion and Reserve Breed Champions at Welshpool sale with Malibu and Moonlight.

Showing gives us great enjoyment as a family, we have met so many people through the breed at sales and shows. It's great to think that we now have contacts all over the UK, who we can honestly call our friends and consider family. We will continue to try and breed Zwartbles that carry flesh and have the power to support both the showing and commercial markets. We are also strong believers in the consistency of markings, which is something which we will endeavour to maintain within our flock and encourage within the breed.

with Danygraig Loveheart, Breed Champion and Reserve Champion at Royal Bath and West Show with Danygraig Lavender and Luxury, Breed Champion at Aberystwyth Show with Luxury, Pairs Champions at the Royal Three Counties National Show, Group of 3 Champions and Reserve Breed Champion again with Luxury at the first ever Welsh National Zwartbles Show in Llanrwst, Group of 3 Champions and Champion Male at the Royal Welsh Show with

We have also expanded into breeding Bleu Du Maine sheep for the past 4yrs and last year started our own Beltex flock. Despite these new additions, we will always have plenty of Zwartbles, with their style and striking features prominent upon our Welsh hills at Danygraig.

- 3) Substitutes must be in the same age category. The information may be phoned in or emailed. If vendors appear at the sale with an animal which does not correspond to the entry (original or substitute) then the animal will be rejected.

Any substitutes shall be marked with yellow lot number on their arrival at the market.

All other Association sales rejected female sheep will be marked clearly on the rump by the inspectors and sold in catalogue order, any member refusing to have their sheep marked must remove them forth with from the market.

Rejected Rams must be removed from the market and not go through the sale ring.

- 1) The teeth of the animal are in the correct/normal position.
- 2) There is no abnormal deviation

Inspection is a condition of entry of the Association and compliance with this inspection shall in no way form a guarantee to the purchaser of the animals so inspected.

- vii) Breeders are also reminded that although the Association welcomes the presentation of untrimmed sheep at Association events, they will be subject to the same inspection as trimmed sheep and should be presented clean and tidy.

c) DISPLAY OF ROSETTES/ PERFORMANCE DATA

Whinnow Flock

Flock: 00600 owned by Tom and Gillian Blamire

I think this has been our 16th lambing season with the Zwartbles ranging in number from 3 to 43 in the flock. I don't think when we lambed the first three that either of us imagined we would still be involved with them now.

By we I mean myself and Tom my son and then the help we get from Ian, Emma and Amy.

Ian is a dairy farmer to the bone and never imagined that we would have a flock of sheep of any size, he affectionately calls them grass rats!! Emma is an agricultural solicitor but is a dab hand among livestock and Amy is a vet nurse in a mixed practice so is invaluable with advice and know how.

My sheep experience prior to the Zwartbles was buying greyfaced hogs at Lazonby sheep sales tuppung them with a Suffolk and selling them in the spring with lambs at foot. I also did a bit of lambing for local farmers as well before getting married.

We got the first Zwartbles from Ian's good friend Mark Shadwick who owned the Skyhigh flock in 2008/09 and they were for Tom!! We then bought two more at the following August sale from Bob Gibson of the then Melon flock along with a couple from the late Charles Scott of the East Middle flock. We then joined the Association and established the Whinnow flock in 2010.

Over the next couple of lambing's numbers grew to where we were happy with them, however Mark Shadwick had decided to emigrate to New Zealand and asked us if we would like to have first look through his sheep before he sold them. I told Ian we should just buy the lot as we wouldn't get the chance of those bloodlines again. He walked away out of the house muttering something about not being so bloody stupid, he came back about 20 mins later and asked could I manage that many and I said of course!!

So, we now had more than I ever imagined and over the next couple of years some went through age and various things and we got down to about 30 ewes which is about right for us.

Tom has always been in charge of the breeding side of things and we both have a similar view of what we like but don't always agree. We like to breed sheep with smart eye-catching heads, big, alert ears and a good well put together body and of course good legs and feet. It doesn't always work out but we try. When we get a tup and ewe that click together its great and their mothering instinct is second to none

Although not credited as a meat sheep we have very little problem getting them to 40kg plus in 12-14 weeks and sell mismarks etc. fat straight off the ewe but they do have good dairy cow grass at their disposal!!

We do sell our sheep at the Carlisle sales as we are only seven miles from Harrison and Hetherington and are very critical when we are picking sale sheep out. We often ask each other "Would you buy it?" And if the answer is no it stays at home. We were delighted in November 2022 when Whinnow Kasey won the ewe lamb class and then went on to be Champion and top price on the day at 1900gns.

We started to show the sheep fairly early on and I cringe now when I think of our first time at our local show at Dalston under the watchful eye of Raymond Heigh he says he can't remember which I am glad of.

I decided if we were going to be serious about showing I had to learn to dress them correctly. I visited a local Suffolk man Jimmy Irving who showed me how to card and clip, and also a couple of dressing days held by our Northern Branch which were invaluable as everyone has their own little ways and tips but we all get to the same end result more or less!

As we got a bit more confident about showing it was always a dream of mine to show at the big ones so in 2012 we went to The Great Yorkshire Show and watched the classes to see if we might ever be able to venture and compete there. I met some wonderful people that day who were both encouraging and helpful and they have become lifelong friends. The following year we bit the bullet and entered and have exhibited there most years since. In 2022 my dreams really did come true when Whinnow Jellybean was breed champion, she followed it up the following year with the female championship as well. We have also been to the Royal Highland and this year Tom has the huge honor of judging the Zwartbles classes there. The Royal Welsh and The Three counties remain on the wish list at present.

Writing something like this makes you think of the sheep you have had over the years and some of the stand out ones I have had the pleasure of breeding are Whinnow Duchess who was Jellybeans mother a lot of our stock goes back to her. Whinnow 59W who was Toms young handler sheep for many years she taught him a lot and was his sheep when he won Cumbria's Young Handler competition twice. Whinnow 28T just because she was the boss! I could write a long list of them and the immense pleasure they have given me and continue to do so.

BREED STANDARDS

A breed standard in animal breeds is a set of guidelines which is used to ensure that the animals produced by a breeder conform to the specifics of the breed. It is the template to which the breed aspires. Not all sheep are born with the correct features or markings and absence of these does not prevent the breeder from registering the animal, but nevertheless, that registered sheep may still be deemed not to meet the breed standard.

The Zwartbles has good conformation, with a big frame, medium bone, good length and a wide pelvis. A tall sheep, with a striking and naturally polled head, a long neck and an erect posture. It is an upright and fully built sheep with an alert and lively character. Rams have a more muscular formed front part and a wider head.

Colour/Markings

- a) Fleeces should be thick and springy with a good crimp, with a true black base colour (though naturally bleached brown tips and age-related grey may occur). The fleece does not grow onto the head which, like the legs, is covered with hair.
- b) Blazes should be uninterrupted and reasonably straight and may be any width and may continue under the chin, but not into the wool. The white blaze should run from the crown of the head and may include the muzzle. Pink or black noses are acceptable.
- c) Tails should be straight and have a readily discernible white tip which should not extend more than  $\frac{1}{2}$  the way up its length in both ewes and rams. (see diagram)
- d) Two to four white socks – if only two they must both be on the hind legs. The sock should encircle the leg and touch the hoof at one or more places. Socks / stockings should not be above the knee or hock (See diagram) please note it is preferred that the white does not extend this far.
- e) There should be no white in the fleece, on the ears or belly.

Limit of allowable white on limbs

Method of measuring tail length

MEASUREMENT OF THE TAIL LENGTH is taken from underneath. If for example the tail measures 30cm then the white should not extend more than 15cm AT ANY POINT on the tail.

General Description of body shape and conformation

- Head: The head must be long and narrow with a straight to very slightly roman nose.
- Ears: These must be proportionately large and should be placed horizontally to erectly. Drooping ears are undesirable
- Neck/Throat Necks must be proportionately fairly long and flexible, and the latter should be carried erectly. A ram's neck must be more muscular and somewhat wider.
- Shoulders: These should be strong and slightly sloping.
- Breast: This should be well-developed and moderately, but not excessively, wide. Viewed from the side the breast should protrude between the front legs. An adult Zwartbles ewe should have stomach and udder at the lowest points.
- Back: With the erect head and neck the back should run straight with easily detectable vertebrae.
- Ribs: From the back the ribs should be round and long.
- Rump: This should be long, slightly rounded, strong with a wide pelvis. It ensures easy lambing and room for wide udder placement. The top of the rump can be a few cm higher than the withers and the 'sitting part' of the rump can be a few cms lower than the hips.
- Thighs: These should be muscular, long and well rounded.
- Legs: These should be long with medium to fine bone and correct pasterns. Pasterns that are too upright or collapsed are incorrect. (See diagram). Correct Zwartbles posture includes straight and equidistantly placed legs the front legs of good tall ewes tend to come in very slightly from the shoulder to the knee and then straight from the knee to the hoof, but should not be rotated outwards.
- Hooves: These may be black, striped or white.
- Tail: The tail should be well set on and undocked.
- Gait: The gait should be brisk, straight and springy.
- Genitalia: The scrotum of a ram should be finely haired and not woolly. The testes should be well-developed, firm and of a similar size.
- Height: The ideal adult height at the withers for ewes is from 75cm and rams from 85cm.

Registration into the Flock book:

Sheep with conformation defects, including but not restricted to the following, should be excluded from registration:

- a) Over/Under shot jaws
- b) Twisted feet
- c) Twisted tails - this is a corkscrew twist of any degree, not a naturally broken tail
- d) Blindness, blue, china or wall eyes, either total or partial.
- e) Arrow tipped tail - this has appeared in the Dutch flock and is described as a tail whose end vertebrae appear to have been squashed flat, as if ironed flat, like an arrow head at the end of the shaft.
- f) Sexual defects - i.e. rams without two sufficiently developed testicles apparent in the scrotum.

Sheep which do vary significantly from the breed standard should be excluded from registration. Males must meet the breed standard to be registered however females can be registered if they do not meet the breed standard and can be bred from.

Overshot

Normal

Undershot

Teeth: It is most important that the teeth bite firmly and fully onto the pad on the upper jaw
Overshot teeth that do not touch the pad should not be registered

A weak pastern

A good pastern

Chapel Field Zwartbles

Flock: 1807

Hi, my name is Abbie Williams, I am 14 years old and live in North Shropshire on a small holding with my Mum, Dad and two brothers Andrew & Archie.

I had my own small commercial flock from 2017 then in 2020 I approached Mum and Dad and told them I would like to show sheep. Mum and Dad told me to do some research as to what breed to get. Two factors that I took in to consideration were being easy to handle & good mothers. After plenty of research and talking to Mum and Dad we decided that Zwartbles were the right breed. I then set about looking for some Zwartbles luckily, I came across some locally. I showed Mum and Dad and we went to view them during Lockdown. Our first stop was the Checkley flock where we bought four shearling ewes and three ewe lambs, followed by a visit to see Kevin & Anne Robinson where we bought six more shearling ewes. The next task was to find a tup, we purchased Redgate Hurricane. Between Dad and myself we decided we wanted to lamb 12 instead of 10 so we went on a very short drive up the road to the Roscallie flock and purchased two more shearling ewes.

In February 2021 we welcomed our first lambs of which we still have three of them here. Two of the three have been part of the show team over the last couple of years. This was a quiet year for us while we got our flock established.

2022 saw us bring lambing forward with a successful lambing where we bred our first replacement tup Chapel Field Kong. We entered our first show at Newport where my brother Andrew and I made our debut in young handlers, Andrew was placed 2nd and

I placed 5th in a very big class. Our flock was starting to grow rapidly as we attended our first sale at Welshpool where we purchased six ewe lambs.

2023 saw us enter more shows which was a steep learning curve with limited success but with some rosettes to show for our efforts. Burwarton being a particular highlight winning my first young handlers' class and placing 2nd in the ram lamb class with Chapel Field Lebron. We expanded our flock even more by going to the Carlisle in lamb sale for the first time. Both Andrew and I took part in the Midlands branch young ambassadors' competition, Andrew placed 4th and I placed 2nd. We wanted to introduce new blood lines without having to buy another tup so we explored the option of AI.

2025 is here and lambing is almost complete. I am looking forward to getting in the show ring and seeing everyone again.

Since starting out with Zwartbles we have found them to be addictive where there always seems to be room for one or two more females when we attend sales. It has been quite a big learning curve doing the shows learning the trimming and how to handle and present my sheep in the correct way, which has been made easier by all the people we have met along the way at both shows and sales who have been very friendly and helpful giving us hints and tips along the way to help us improve my flock. Over the past few years where we have gone from lambing in February to the beginning of January, exploring AI, and advice for young handlers has all been extremely helpful in helping us improve. One of the best things is we as a family have made some great friends.

2024 was an extremely busy year with lambing, attending 10 shows and four sales. Showing was a great success in both young handlers and main Zwartbles classes in particular with Chapel Field Mambo bring home three firsts, two seconds, four thirds & male champion. Our group of three did particularly well gaining two reserve interbreed championships at both Shropshire & Cheshire show. Andrew won reserve champion young handler at Moreton in the marsh show to finish the season on a high! We also took a shearing tup to the Carlisle premier sale and ram lambs to the Worcester sale where they all went off to great new homes.

I am really pleased with the progress we have made over the last four years as a family and on a personal note I feel my confidence with handling the sheep is growing with every show that we enter and am looking forward to seeing how we get on in the future.

Junior Flock Profile

Martha Breeze

Hi my name is Martha Breeze, I'm nine years old. Here is a little bit about my journey with Zwartbles so far...

My older brother started our flock in 2011. From being little I would be outside helping to feed and check the sheep, and in 2018 I became really close with a lamb called Duchess, we became best friends. My mum has always said I could only show when I could manage to show the sheep myself. At home while mum and dad were trimming I would walk up to Duchess in the field and stand and hold her head, help wash her legs and started practicing walking her around on a sheep halter. She was a special and patient sheep and she was the one who really taught me how to show. So that year when I was two years old I showed for the first time at The Great Yorkshire Show in the young handlers class age five and under and I came 3rd. I then continued showing her the rest of that show season in the main classes and young handlers as she stood so well for me. I even managed to win a couple of championships and reserves with her!! Sadly she passed away before lambing that year.

Each year since then I have picked a lamb out to show and then as I've got older a shearing too. My dad always helps to pick a ewe. We often have a little bit of family competition showing against each other at the shows, firstly between my big brother and me and now my dad and me. Me and my dad are always very competitive, I sometimes win against him and he sometimes wins.

Each year I try hard to improve and last year I started practicing trimming a Zwartble, although I need a bit more practice to trim the show team. I really enjoy showing and one of my highlights was winning interbreed champion at Wolsingham Show in 2022 with our ewe Olbre Galaxy. I'm also very happy to have won the Northern Branch Young Ambassador Competition three times in a row.

At home my favourite job to help with is at lambing time, when me and my little brother are in charge of feeding, watering and bedding up the sheep and lambs in the individual pens.

PROTECT YOUR FLOCK FROM THE GROWING THREAT OF MAEDI VISNA

The number of flocks in GB which are infected with maedi visna (MV) is increasing. In 2010 there was a large scale survey which indicated that under 3% of flocks were infected with MV.

Fifteen years later it is now estimated that the figure may have jumped to around 10% of flocks having evidence of infection. This is based on screening tests carried out through SRUC Veterinary Services in non-accredited flocks.

What is MV?

MV is a chronic disease of sheep which can cause a range of different clinical signs. Affected sheep may be thin, suffer from respiratory problems, develop arthritis and have low milk production and hard udders which results in poor lamb survival and failure to thrive. The virus may also affect the central nervous system causing hind limb weakness and paralysis. Infected flocks are likely to have high replacement rates and higher levels of all diseases due to immune suppressive effects of MV.

The disease takes years rather than months to develop in an infected animal so clinically signs are usually seen in the older animals in a flock. If testing is not being carried out regularly then infection can build up in a flock before any signs are seen of a problem. Often more than 50% of the animals will be positive on blood tests before a clinical problem is noticed.

How is the disease spread?

Infection is passed from sheep to sheep through close contact and inhalation of droplets from the nose and mouth. Infection spreads more rapidly when sheep are housed. It can also be spread through contaminated colostrum/milk and semen and blood on equipment, overalls, trailers and sheep pens etc.

How do I protect my flock?

The biggest risk is buying in infected animals which are not yet showing any signs of disease. MV Accredited animals carry the lowest risk as they come from flocks which are screened clear of disease. Even if you are not a member of the accreditation scheme you can benefit from buying accredited stock.

Paying close attention to farm biosecurity is also essential. Members of the MV Accreditation Scheme are required to have biosecurity measures in place but following these principles will help protect your flock regardless of accreditation status:

- Ensure all farm boundaries are secure to prevent straying
- A 2m boundary gap (3m if there are goats) will prevent nose to nose contact
- Equipment such as drenching guns, hypodermic needles and ear taggers can transfer infection from animal to animal. Ensure these are kept clean and don't share with anyone else.
- Any equipment used on other holdings such as shearing trailers, scanning crates should be disinfected before and after use.

Caprine arthritis and encephalitis (CAE) is a similar infection to MV but affecting goats rather than sheep. The same biosecurity rules should be applied to goats.

Test your flock

If you are not already a member of the MV Accreditation Scheme you could choose to join. Once accredited you would have the added benefit of access to MV Accredited shows and sales.

If you can't comply with all the requirements of the accreditation scheme then an MV Monitoring Scheme may be a better option. In the SRUC MV Monitoring Scheme, up to 20 animals are tested on an annual basis, targeting thinner or more poorly productive ewes, along with a proportion of purchased animals. Figures suggest this is a very effective way of picking up infection in the flock. Monitoring schemes do not provide the same level of assurance as the MV Accreditation scheme but can give you an early warning that there is a problem in your flock. This allows you to act before infection becomes widespread in your flock.

AROUND THE SALES

History of the Zwartbles Sheep Association

The history of the Zwartbles as a sheep breed starts in the late 19th and early 20th Centuries. It is thought that the Zwartbles breed is descended from a relatively large breed of sheep called the schoonebeker, which grazed the heathlands of North East Holland.

It gets its name from a place called Schoonebeek in the province of Drenthe. The schoonebeker lambs were at the time walked to the livestock market in Norg where they were sold as store lambs to farmers from Northern Friesland who used them to fertilise their pastures while fattening. This practice declined when commercial fertilizers became available and the schoonebeker lamb trade crashed resulting in the Schoonebeker becoming an extremely rare breed.

Some of the store lambs sold had badger faced markings that resemble the modern day Zwartbles sheep and if you look at pictures of the schoonebeeker you can see the resemblance including the slight roman noses, long neck and erect posture. A number of Friesian farmers decided to line breed these “Zwartbles” schoonebeker sheep and with some influence from Friesland milk sheep and Texels, the modern day Zwartbles was developed. Interestingly, in the early years the Zwartbles was sometimes referred to as the “improved schoonebeker”.

Due to changes in farming practices, numbers dwindled to an estimated 500 animals by 1978, with only about 250 of these considered to be of purebred Zwartbles quality. Numbers started to increase by the late 1970s mainly due to the interest of hobby wool spinners in black wool and in 1985 a number of Dutch breeders started a Zwartbles flock book.

The first Zwartbles were imported into the UK in 1986 and in increasing numbers into the 1990s. In October 1995 the first meeting of UK Zwartbles breeders was held at the NSA headquarters in Malvern. Twelve flocks containing about 140 sheep were represented. The Zwartbles Sheep Association (ZSA) was born with the aim “to promote the breed and maintain its purity”

“Numbers started to increase by the late 1970s mainly due to the interest of hobby wool

www.zwartbles.org

In 1997 the logo was designed and A4 pedigree certificates were developed. The first major shows to hold Zwartbles classes were the Royal Welsh, Bath and West and Great Yorkshire shows. All other sheep were shown in the AOB classes. 1999 saw the instigation of the website www.zwartbles.org, the development of the breed standard and the use of Category A and Standard.

The ZSA took a stand at North Sheep 2000 and by 2001 the association had grown to 107 members. More interest, more members and more promotion led to discussion about a new computer system and the grassroots system was purchased. In 2004 there were four official sales, Exeter (36), Carlisle (160), Builth Wells (92) and Worcester (156).

2005 saw the ZSA hold its 10th anniversary at the AGM. At this time there were about 6500 sheep in the UK and 250 members. The ZSA also employed their first secretary and we welcomed new members from Southern Ireland. By 2008 the membership had increased to 360 and it was decided to end the category A and Standard categorisation. Regional branches were created to allow members to become more involved in their own areas.

In 2011 the first National Show was held at the Royal Three Counties Show. Three years later it moved to the Great Yorkshire Show and then on to the Royal Highland Show. In 2020 the National show was due to move to the Bath and West Show but was cancelled due to the Covid pandemic.

2013 saw the development of the role of President. Joan Rowlands as our first President, followed by Carol Calder in 2017, with Vincent Davies being our current president.

The year 2015 marked the 20th year of the formation of the ZSA with a new website and Facebook page and in 2020 we celebrated 25 years. The ZSA continues to grow in strength as the number of sheep continues to grow. The association holds official sales at Carlisle, Worcester, Exeter, Northern Ireland and Welshpool. Currently there are 690 members with 15263 live animals registered on the database at the end of 2022 and we have welcomed 77 new members.

EAR TAGS

All registered Zwartbles sheep must be ear tagged with their pedigree number as well as the UK Flock Number. From 1st January 2005 they must also have the ZSA Member's number on the tag. (See Rules)

All sheep keepers in the UK must register with their Government Department. (DEFRA, SGRPID, WAG and DARD) and they will be given a UK Flock Number, even if they do not have a registered farm or smallholding.

New EID Regulations have been brought in from 1st January 2010 and all ear tags must comply with Government rules. Two UK tags with the same identification number must be applied if it is intended that the animal will live to 12 months of age or more. These must be applied by 9 months of age, or when the animal first leaves its holding of birth – whichever occurs first.

Please make sure you comply with the relevant Government Rules.

The ZSA issues pedigree certificates in the following manner:- 0023-001J

- 00023 is the breeder's ZSA membership number;
- 001 is the number unique (individual) to that sheep and
- J is the year letter.

Lambs born
1st January 2019 to 31st December:

2020	H
2021	J
2022	K
2023	L

For official Government purposes the ear tag must contain the UK flock number and it must contain the animal's individual number. For ZSA purposes the animal should also be identified by its individual number, the Year Letter and the Member's ZSA membership number.

(From 2010 individual numbers will start from 001). However, if you are using separate tags, for the DEFRA information and the ZSA information, the ZSA tag can start at 001 each year, (this may cause unnecessary complications though in terms of record keeping as essentially you will have 2 unique numbers for each animal, i.e. your individual number assigned by Government, plus your ZSA individual animal number – however this is down to personal choice)

A record of unused tags must be kept.

Options are:-

On one side of the tag put the sheep's individual number followed by the ZSA Year Letter [nothing must come in front of the unique number.

On the other side of the tag put your UK flock number – UK123456 with the individual number of each sheep.

On one side of the tag put the ZSA flock number with the sheep's individual number followed by the letter.

On the other side of the tag put your UK flock number – UK123456 with the sheep's individual number.

There are lots of different types and styles or ear tags, the choice of which tag you use is your own personal choice.

For a list of officially approved tag manufacturers see the Defra website www.defra.gov.uk/animalh/id-move/sheep-goats/eartag\_makers.htm

In the event of any sheep losing its tag it must be re-tagged with the original number (including the ZSA flock number and year letter) or if replaced with a red replacement tag the association MUST be informed that the sheep has been re-tagged and given the new tag number.

The ZSA recommends that the ZSA number and the individual number on the sheep's EID tag

COPPER TOXICITY

Copper Toxicity

Copper is a required mineral for all farm animals but is also potentially poisonous for all. Sheep are the most prone to poisoning due to the complicated manner in which it is stored and utilised..

Copper levels in the body are influenced by breed, age, general health and amounts of other minerals in the diet either from concentrates or forage. Breeds vary in their ability to absorb dietary copper and the continental shortwool sheep are relatively susceptible to copper toxicity. Zwartbles fall into this category and we must remember that practices used for native Cheviots, Welsh or Blackface sheep may be dangerous for Zwartbles.

The poisoning may be sudden (acute) or due to a slow build up (chronic). Whichever it is, the clinical signs are usually the same and are sudden in onset.

Acute poisoning may occur following high intakes of copper, of more than 20 – 100mg per kg of body weight, in feed or by injection. Chronic poisoning occurs when the liver's capacity to store the copper is exceeded over a period of time, but the copper is still suddenly dumped into the circulation. This surfeit is usually due to long term excessive intake, such as that from incorrect mineral supplements, access to cattle or poultry food, or certain plants in the pasture.

To add to the confusion and complexity a surplus of the element molybdenum will reduce available copper, whilst a drop in dietary molybdenum will cause a rise in available copper possibly to a toxic level.

When the critical level is reached the liver, which normally stores the copper in a bound form, suddenly releases its stored copper into the blood producing a tenfold increase in blood copper. This rush is lethal to the red blood cells as well as the liver itself. The red blood cells burst; their loss produces an inability to carry oxygen around the body and their contents block the kidneys causing renal failure. Symptoms generally seen relating to this are jaundice, anaemia, panting and red-brown urine, but in Zwartbles the two former symptoms may be very difficult to evaluate and a blood copper level may be needed.

The sheep will appear increasingly weak, wandering aimlessly or head-pressing in a corner (symptoms common to liver failure). Most individuals will die following a short period of recumbency.

Treatment of copper poisoning is supportive therapy, but it is most usually ineffective. However injections of 'binding' chemicals to strip the copper from the blood and intravenous fluids to support the circulation are the basis of the treatment. Perhaps one of the most worrying aspects is that it is often several or many of your flock that have been poisoned.

Prevention of the condition is far more effective than treatment.

Avoid

Access to cattle, pig or poultry feeds

Pasture that has been fertilised with pig or poultry manure or the silage from there

Mineral supplements or blocks intended for cattle

Over mineralising housed sheep which are often receiving far more copper than they require in the concentrate before we even start supplementing.

You CAN and SHOULD

Look at the copper level in feeds used – a normal sheep can cope with as little as 5mg / kg (5ppm) but your hay and grain may already have more than this (approx 15 mg / kg or 15ppm),

Ensure you do not give feeds or supplements intended for other species,

Test pasture levels of minerals – remember if you test your grass you should have an idea on what the hay from there will contain.

Remember that copper deficiency is possible also producing Swayback in your lambs and coat fading in adults!

SHEEP SCAB

Sheep Scab

Sheep Scab is caused by a mite – Psoroptes ovis which causes intense itching, wool loss, bleeding wounds, weight loss and represents a significant welfare issue. It is highly infectious with just a single female mite carrying eggs enough to start an infection.

Sheep carrying scab mites are the most common source of infection, but transport, equipment such as scanning trailers, shears, waterproofs, quad bikes can all be a source of an outbreak.

The UK has nearly eradicated scab – twice. But since sheep scab control was deregulated in 1992, cases have exploded with 10,000 cases annually reported.

Treatment options are dipping with OP dip or injection with a Macrocytic Lactone (ML) such as Doramectin (Dectomax™) or Moxidectin 2% (Cydectin 2%™). But the first recorded case of ML resistant mites was first seen in 2017 and is now widespread. This has meant a switch back to the use of OP dip and the rise in dipping wagons. It should be noted that showers should not be used. Not only are they not licenced or effective against scab as they don't reach the mites living in the ear canal, it is also not advisable to aerosolise and then inhale OP dip.

The main defence against sheep scab is biosecurity – keep scab out. All incoming sheep should be quarantined and either tested or treated. This includes newly purchased sheep from sales, privately or sheep that have been away to shows. The sheep scab blood test picks up antibodies if the sheep has been exposed to scab mites and will be positive two weeks after exposure. The risk of quarantine treating scab with an ML injection is if the sheep are carrying resistant mites it will be ineffective and potentially the whole flock will be exposed to resistant mites. For those flocks with showing teams that will be on and off the farm all showing season the best course of action is to quarantine the whole show team away from the rest of the flock for the whole showing season. Two weeks after the last show, the show team could then be blood tested and treated if necessary, before returning to the main flock.

Wormer Resistance In Sheep

Jess Odgers MRCVS ~ Quarrydale Zwartbles

Anthelmintic resistance, or wormer resistance is impacting sheep keepers whether you have five ewes or 500. When a worm is ‘resistant’ to a wormer, it means that the worm can survive a drench, leaving it alive within the sheep to pass eggs onto the pasture. Resistance to the original three classes of wormer (white, yellow, clear) is already widespread across the UK.

How to avoid developing resistance in your flock:

- Right product - is the product you are using going to work for the problem you are treating? Do you know what type of worm you are treating? Do you already have worms resistant to one or more classes of drench? Have you done a drench check worm egg count (WEC) to check the product used has worked?
- Right amount - Always check the packet for the dose rate and set this to the heaviest animals in the group. Calibrate your dosing guns, number 10 on the dial doesn't mean 10ml will be dispensed! Simply squirt a few doses into a clean syringe or small jug to ensure that the right volume is consistently delivered. Do this every time as the difference in drench viscosities can alter how much is dispensed, for all of my fellow tight Northerners, you can pour this back into the bottle so it isn't wasted!
- Right way - check the packet, is it injectable? Under the skin or in the muscle? If it's a drench make sure to go over the back of the tongue so it isn't spat out. Take extra care in lambs, dosing gun injuries can be fatal!

- Right animals - Aim to leave 10 - 20% of the group un-treated. Across a group, not all of the lambs or ewes will be struggling with a high worm burden, these 'good doers' are visible to your eye being the fittest animals, growing well and not showing signs of scour. Leaving these animals untreated is beneficial, the untreated worms create an 'in-refugia' population. This low level burden will outcompete any resistant worms being shed by treated animals and reduce the speed of resistance developing. The same principle can be used at lambing, fit singles and twins are often managing their worm burden well and go on ok without a worm treatment however, triplets, leaner twins or any ill ewes are likely to be shedding more eggs and benefit from a treatment.
- Right time - do the sheep need a treatment at this time? Have you done a WEC? Sheep build their own immunity to worms over time, too frequent dosing stops this from developing and leaves us reliant on wormers. Ideally WEC lambs monthly from six weeks of age or turnout for the early lambers. WEC are especially useful pre-tupping, the ewes may surprise you and are often managing the worms well on their own without the need for any treatments.

- Quarantine - ALL new animals, don't make someone else's worm resistance problems your own! All new stock should be housed for at least 48 hours and treated with Purple drench (5SI) or a combination of Orange (4AD) and Clear (3ML) drenches. This should clear out any resistant worms in your purchase and they will be ready to continue further isolation on 'dirty' pasture, allowing your own 'brand' of worms to be picked up. This out-competes anything resistant potentially left in your new sheep. It is also a good opportunity to nip in the bud any other nasties which can threaten your flock including scab, footrot, CODD, and pink eye.

As well as allowing gradual exposure to build the immunity of your flock, you must minimise any underlying issues which put the brakes on performance. Maintaining target body condition of ewes and ensuring balanced nutrition is one of the first things to consider, many feed companies will test haylage for you and aid in planning a ration for pre lambing and lactation which supplies enough energy and protein to support the ewe and her lambs. Lameness, fluke, trace elements and diseases such as MV, Johnes and OPA are just a few of the other issues to keep in check.

Altering your grazing patterns is a useful way of reducing pasture contamination and reducing worm burdens. This can be difficult depending on your grazing situation, a simple start is to ensure you have a record of which stock is where and when. That way you will know which fields are likely to have higher levels of pasture contamination and avoid putting lambs on this ground. Fit adult sheep should have a higher level of immunity and can be used on dirty pastures as 'mops', this is because they can graze pastures with high worm larvae contamination but only shed a low egg level themselves, essentially 'cleaning' the pasture of worm larvae. Forecasts based on weather conditions are available for free online to allow risk based treatments for Nematodirus in lambs. Other options to reduce pasture contamination include alternating grazing with cattle, using silage aftermaths or cover crops.

The SCOPS (Sustainable Control of Parasites in Sheep) website (www.scops.org.uk) has plenty of resources on different control strategies available and your own Vet is able to provide a tailored healthplan to aid the management of your flock. Funding is available towards this and worm resistance testing through the Animal Health and Welfare Pathway from the RPA.

SELECTING LAMBS FOR SLAUGHTER

Written by Eleanor Thornton - Coquet Nook Zwartbles ZSA 01445

My day job involves sourcing and selecting finished lambs and cattle to the appropriate weight and fat specification for Dunbia, while aiming to maximise financial returns for the farmers.

When determining when your lambs are ready for slaughter, your overall aim is to produce an lamb that the consumer wants. This is ultimately, a clean, dry lamb which is sold at the right time to hit the optimal specification for weight, conformation and fat class. When weighing lambs there are several factors to consider.

- Ensure your weighing equipment is calibrated.
- Try to weigh your lambs at the same time of day on each weighing day – a full stomach can weigh twice as much as an empty one and can greatly affect the kill out percentage.

- Wet fleeces weigh more than dry ones.

However, liveweight and visual assessment are just a guide, and in order to be more accurate with your selection, it is important to handle each lamb at the key handling points shown in figure 1 to ensure their conformation (shape) and fat cover meet your target market.

Handling Points - Conformation

To assess conformation (shape) there are three key areas to focus on

- The thickness and flesh over the spinous process of the shoulder (A)
- The fullness of the loin (B) between the spinous and transverse processes
- The depth and thickness of the hind leg (C)

When you are handling, a well conformed lamb will have spinous processes on the shoulder that are less prominent to touch with flesh beginning to create a convex profile and a loin which is full and transverse processes difficult to detect. In comparison, a lamb with a poor conformation will have a concave profile over the shoulder where the spinous process is very prominent and a loin which has little body and transverse processes easy to detect. Conformation is largely influenced by breed and genetics, but in my experience pure zwartbles lambs can comfortably meet the ideal 'R' grade if not better.

Handling Points - Fat Cover

To assess fat class there are three key areas to focus on

The transverse and spinous processes of the Loin (D)

The bones in the Dock (E)

Individual Ribs (F)

When assessing lambs for fat cover, a lamb with a fat class of 3L will require light to medium pressure to detect the bones on the dock, transverse and spinous processes on the loin and individual ribs will have a spongy feel.

Zwartbles are well known for their ability to produce lean, sweet tasting meat. Although generally, fat class of a lamb is also largely influenced by the finishing diet and sex. Ewe lambs have a tendency to lay fat down easier, followed by castrates, with ram lambs generally handling leaner.

Remember- practice makes perfect! If you are not sure, an experienced friendly farmer should be able to help with selection. There are many other variables that can affect the level and rate of finish of lambs including grass growth, weather and time of year.

Further reading and support on lamb selection is also available online through the levy bodies AHDB and HCC Meat Promotion Wales.

CONTROLLED BREEDING

Controlled Breeding in Sheep

I have split this into simple sections: Why ? How ?

Why Bother ?

Lots of people will tell you that they just pick a date and turn the tup in amongst the ewes and they get great results!

The main reason for manipulating the breeding season and ultimately the lambing date is one of efficiency. By controlling the lambing time we can get the maximum number of ewes to lamb in the minimum time. This results in less labour to watch them lamb or lambing to coincide with work / school holidays etc, more efficient feeding of the ewes pre-lambing and post lambing . It gives a more compact even group of lambs that can be handled as a single group, resulting in less waste of veterinary medicines , creep feed and ultimately a group that if destined for the sale ring are more even in size resulting in better prices. Those destined for the prime lamb sales can go in a larger batch resulting in fewer trips to market.

How ?

In its simplest form, controlled breeding can be achieved through flushing of the ewes pre-tupping. This involves restricting the nutrition of the ewes for about a month and then introducing them on to a rich sward for a couple of weeks before introducing the tups. The increased nutrition encourages the ewes to cycle and also to produce a larger crop of lambs.

Teaser tups or vasectomised males can be used to further tighten the lambing period. The teasers are introduced around a fortnight prior to the tups, the presence and “attention” of the males encourages the ewes to start to cycle. When the tups are put in the bulk of the flock should be ready to mate in the first week .

Regulin implants are occasionally advocated for bringing forward the breeding season in sheep. These are melatonin devices that mimic the decreasing daylength responsible for inducing the breeding season in sheep. With the lambing date now at 1st January, there is little need for these in the Zwartbles breed.

Medical synchronisation of the ewe revolves around the use of synthetic progesterones generally in combination with PMSG.

Chronogest Sponges - The original form of synchronisation and still the most commonly used. Small sponges coated in progestagen are inserted intra-vaginally for 12 days and then removed. Generally an injection of PMSG is given at this time to increase ovulation rate and litter size (less of an issue in Zwartbles than other breeds!)

The rams are introduced 36 hours later at a rate of one ram to 5-8 ewes.

For fixed time AI, insemination is usually around 54 hours later.

www.zwartbles.org

CIDR Ovis - Cidrs have been available in the UK for sheep for the last three years. They have a similar mode of action to sponges, just a different design, being small Y-shaped devices coated with progesterone. Many people prefer them as they are smaller and easier to insert than sponges, particularly in gimmers which tend to be less roomy.

Prostaglandin Injections - The use of prostaglandin injections given 7-9 days apart has been used to synchronise ewes, but as the product is generally a vet only administered injection it is a protocol rather used outwith experimental farms.

Important Points

Ewes for synchronisation should have been weaned at least 3-4 weeks

Ewes should be aimed to have a body condition score of 3-3.5 at mating

Order your sponges and PMSG well in advance, in certain years there have been delays or shortages of both products

Cleanliness and gently insertion of the devices are important

Have a pre-breeding check carried out on your ram prior to inserting sponges - NO RAM = NO LAMBS

If using AI with CIDRs, check with your provider as there is a difference in the timing of insemination compared with sponges

Approximate conception rates of 70% can be achieved

SHOW PREPARATION

2025

Some Tips On Show Preparation

There is a range of differences between exhibitors in how they organise their showing year, select their potential show team and then feed and begin their show preparations.

In this brief introduction to getting ready for showing, some ideas on how to achieve a well presented show animal are given. This is certainly not the only course to take and many exhibitors will have their own special ways to get their animals prepared. Our only advice to the new exhibitor is to talk to as many other exhibitors as possible and pick their brains on how to go about show preparation. You will find exhibitors will probably give you slightly different advice on what to do, but by using this information you will eventually end up with the ideal way for yourself and gain that satisfaction of presenting your animal in front of a judge in as good show condition as possible.

One question often comes up and that is when should the showing year start? Again this depends very much on an individual. Many exhibitors will say that this will start as early as possible and begins with watching your lambs as they play to first of all make sure they are correct in their markings and then look for those that 'show themselves off'. This will give you the basis of which animals may potentially end up in your show team together with those adults that have show potential.

You now need to consider your feeding regime. Most show animals need to be presented in show condition, but not too fat. This will depend on two main things.

1. Giving the correct amount of hard feed to help improve the animals condition.
2. Knowing your own animals, enabling you to give the correct amount of hard feed – Some animals need more feed to achieve the same end result.

All Zwartbles sheep being shown, must be sheared between 1st January and 1st May in the year they are to be shown, see ZSA Rule 7. Remember after shearing the fleece is very short and begins to regrow quite slowly at first. If you are planning on showing animals at shows early in the season you need to take this into account when considering when to shear. A later shorn sheep will look very bare compared to an animal shorn earlier. The other consideration is the time of year as the animals may need to be housed after shearing and possibly covered with a rug for a while in order to acclimatise to the change in temperature.

In a show environment you will need to be able to lead your sheep – to initially get to the show ring and then to move to the required position requested by the judge. Initially any sheep on the end of a halter will not lead naturally. If you try to apply any pressure on the halter the sheep responds by pulling back as it feels the pressure of the halter on its head. Once the sheep begins to move initially it will often leap into the air and can on occasions throw itself down. Release the pressure and the animal will settle again ready to start round 2. This behaviour is only temporary until the sheep is used to the halter. Then it is possible to learn it to lead and once learned is not forgotten.

You have now reached the stage of a well behaved sheep in good condition and with a reasonable length of fleece ready for trimming. It is possible to trim your sheep on a halter tied to something secure but your sheep's natural reaction is to twist away so it is good advice to invest in a headstock which prevents this. Also a dressing/trimming stand makes the job of dressing easier as it raises the sheep up to a good working height. This incorporates a headstock so that the sheep is held safely and securely.

The first job to perform on your sheep is to wash your sheep thoroughly with a livestock shampoo making sure it is rinsed clean afterwards and then allowed to dry thoroughly, preferably outside as this makes the drying process much quicker. The main equipment needed to dress your sheep is a set of sharp offset shears, a carding comb and preferably some fleecefix to help to condition the fleece.

Now on to trimming your sheep. First of all dampen the fleece with a fine spray before starting to card the fleece. The carding comb is used to make the fleece stand up. If you let the comb go in too deep you will find it almost impossible to pull the comb through the fleece without lifting up the sheep. The knack is to let the comb go into the fleece just enough to pull the top section up into a 'frizz'. With practice you will learn how to insert the comb to provide a consistent standing frizz all over the animal.

The hand shears should be used to trim the raised fleece by laying the flat of the blade on the fleece with a very small amount of downward pressure and operating the shears as they are moved along the animal. The shears will have the effect of flattening the base of the fleece whilst removing the carded up fleece. The result will be the removal of the brown sun bleached part of the fleece leaving the true black colour. This process may need to be repeated to remove all of the brown wool. It is better to trim little and often for good results as trimming too deep can leave 'holes' in the fleece.

One suggested order of trimming is to start on the back of the animal and get it nice and level. Then work down each side giving the animal a neat shape overall. When the trimming is completed to your satisfaction a final spray with fleecefix is useful, followed by patting the fleece down with a wooden patten. It is useful to rug your sheep after trimming as it will keep the animal clean before showing.
